A mixed bag of data in the 8:30am time slot, but as we were expecting/hoping, the Jobless Claims data is carrying more weight than Philly Fed. That said, if Philly Fed had been weaker, we might be seeing a better response.

As it stands, 10yr yields have rallied just over 1bp but are still 1.2bps higher on the day at 4.17%.

MBS are up 2 ticks (.06) from the opening lows, but still down 1 tick (.03) on the day.
