Refinance demand, as always, is very closely tied to interest rate volatility. Last week's rates moved higher and were near the highest levels in more than a month at one point. As such, it's no surprise to see a bit of a slide in the refi index. If anything, it's refreshing to see how resilient the numbers have been.

While we are no great fans of predicting the future, there's a strong possibility that next week's refi numbers will be noticeably higher. That's not hard to imagine given that rates fell to the lowest levels since October by the end of the week.
