Solid AM Gains Stick Around All Day

MBS Recap | Matthew Graham | 4:15 PM

Bonds improved in the morning following comments from Bessent that gave the markets more insight to his role in defusing last week's frenzy over the potential ouster. In short, he's the voice of reason and the bond market likes that. Additional gains came courtesy of 9:30am NYSE trade flows. At the time, stocks were sinking. Then in the afternoon, stocks rebounded without pulling bond yields higher.

MBS Morning

11:23 AM Bonds Approve of Bessent Comments and Stock Volatility

3:38 PM

Market Movement Recap

- 10:59 AM Flat overnight but gaining ground in AM hours following Bessent comments on Fed and NYSE opening bell volatility. MBS up 5 ticks (.16) and 10yr down 4.1bps at 4.339
- 01:02 PM Little-changed versus 11am levels and mostly sideways since then
- 03:48 PM best levels of the day with MBS up 5 ticks (.16). 10yr still flat at stronger levels, down 4.3bps at 4.337

Lock / Float Considerations

- Bonds continue recovering from last week's CPI-related selling with Monday marking the 4th day in a row of modest-to-moderate gains. There's no special reason to expect this momentum will continue. Rather, it's more likely to level off ahead of next week's more active slate of big ticket econ data. One wild card for this week for better or worse: earnings season in stocks could spill over into bond market volatility.
