

MBS & TREASURY MARKETS

Daily Coverage. Industry Leading Perspective.

The Day Ahead: Big Old Rally After HUGE Downward NFP Revisions

Non-farm payrolls came in at 73k vs 110k, which is a pretty good thing for the bond market in and of itself. But the bigger story is in the net revisions to the last 2 months. 139k reported in June became 19k. 147k reported last month was revised to 14k! That means, on average, the last 2 NFPs were 126.5k lower.

Nonfarm Payroll Employment: Revisions

| Month | Year | Seasonally adjusted   |     |     |                                    |           |           |
|-------|------|-----------------------|-----|-----|------------------------------------|-----------|-----------|
|       |      | Over-the-month change |     |     | Revision* in over-the-month change |           |           |
|       |      | 1st                   | 2nd | 3rd | 2nd - 1st                          | 3rd - 2nd | 3rd - 1st |
| Jan.  | 2025 | 143                   | 125 | 111 | -18                                | -14       | -32       |
| Feb.  | 2025 | 151                   | 117 | 102 | -34                                | -15       | -49       |
| Mar.  | 2025 | 228                   | 185 | 120 | -43                                | -65       | -108      |
| Apr.  | 2025 | 177                   | 147 | 158 | -30                                | 11        | -19       |
| May   | 2025 | 139                   | 144 | 19  | 5                                  | -125      | -120      |
| Jun.  | 2025 | 147                   | 14  |     | -133                               |           |           |
| Jul.  | 2025 | 73                    |     |     |                                    |           |           |

Initial NFP

Most Recent Revision

Difference Between the Two

It completely reframes the current picture of the labor market in a way that argues for a rapid re-evaluation of Fed rate cut odds. The market agrees. Fed Funds Rate (FFR) expectations are plummeting.

Nick Hunter

President, Owner, River City Mortgage, LLC

www.rchomeloans.com

2yr Treasury yields (more closely tied to FFR) are on fire--down more than 22bps! That's hot enough to warm up the rest of the yield curve with 10yr yields down more than 13bps at 4.239.

MBS are up half a point. On a separate note, there's a lot of unfortunate commentary on social media about revisions and the Fed being 'too late' in light of the revisions. We'd note that in the past, when revisions like this have happened, the Fed has been quick to acknowledge and adjust. September's Fed meeting (and the next NFP that comes out 2 weeks prior) just became orders of magnitude more interesting than the Dos Equis guy.