

MBS & TREASURY MARKETS

Daily Coverage. Industry Leading Perspective.

A message from Nickolas Inhelder:

We Make Home Happen.™

Our goal is simple:

To help every family we serve get to “Yes.”

Yes to the loan that unlocks the joy of home ownership.

Yes to the lending solution that meets every client’s unique needs and wants.

That’s why we dedicate our every resource to serve as your personal guide through the lending process, solving problems, building confidence. Aslan has access to every lending option leading to the purchase or refinance of a residential home loan.

This is more than work for us. It is our unique joy in this life to share our collective skill, creativity, and care to bring you and your family right to where you belong.

Let’s make home happen.

CONTACT ME TODAY

Nickolas Inhelder

Mortgage Broker, In Clear
To Close - InCTC LLC

www.AslanHLC.com

P: (720) 446-8778

M: (858) 229-9533

nick@incleartoclose.com

1777 S. Harrison St.

Denver CO 80210

2037157 - CO, FL

2656899 - AL, CO, FL, SD

The Day Ahead: It's Not as Bad as it Seems

In your defense, perhaps you're not too bothered or concerned about the market/rate movement since Fed day. But if you are, here's some perspective. With the exception of the past 2 weeks, 10yr yields are the lowest since April and mortgage rates are the lowest since October. Both are lower than they were the day before this month's jobs report and mortgage rates were already at 11-month lows at that time. We won't know if there's true cause for concern until we see the early October economic data. For now, we're seeing a fairly logical reaction to the events at hand, but it feels brisk when compared to bonds/rates that were stretched to the aggressive side amid pre-Fed positioning.

Bottom line, 4.19 had been our bottom line for the past several months. Anything that happens below that level is just noise between now and the next jobs report.

