

MBS & TREASURY MARKETS

Daily Coverage. Industry Leading Perspective.

A message from Marc Erickson:

For informational purposes only. This is not a commitment to lend or extend credit. Information and/or dates are subject to change without notice. All loans are subject to credit approval. Rates vary based upon market conditions and borrower qualification.

Marc Erickson

Mortgage Guide, Excel Financial Group, LLC

www.themortgagemarc.com

P: (720) 295-0704

M: (720) 295-0704

123 N College Avenue
Fort Collins CO 80524
1245157

Ehric Wolfe

REALTOR®, Coldwell Banker Realty

www.coloradowolfehomes.com

P: (970) 691-5299

ehrlic@coloradowolfehomes.com

3665 John F Kennedy Parkway
Fort Collins CO 80525

The Day Ahead: Bonds Are Back in The Office

By 10am ET, today's trading volume has already surpassed that seen on December 23rd and 26th (both full trading days)--proof positive that the market is shifting out of holiday mode. Over the past 3 weeks, bonds did a perfect job of holding inside the forgettable sideways range marked by 4.10-4.20 in 10yr yields. A breakout on either side of that range becomes a stronger possibility this week thanks not only to increased participation, but most importantly due to Friday's jobs report. There are other relevant reports between now and then with Wednesday morning's JOLTS/ISM combo being the most notable. Today's ISM Manufacturing was slightly weaker but hasn't had a big impact so far. Lastly, for those curious, both stocks and bonds have completely shrugged off the weekend's news on Venezuela.

