

MBS & TREASURY MARKETS

Daily Coverage. Industry Leading Perspective.

MBS Recap: Juxtaposition of Escalation and De-escalation Keeping Bonds Volatile

Doug Hill
Branch Manager,
Nationwide Mortgage
Bankers
www.nmbnow.com/dhill
P: (845) 454-6088
460 Freedom Plains Rd
Poughkeepsie NY 12603
NMLS#65379

Juxtaposition of Escalation and De-escalation Keeping Bonds Volatile

MBS Recap | Matthew Graham | 4:02 PM

Tuesday was notable for financial markets' attempts to trade the Iran war due to the conspicuous juxtaposition of newswires that spoke to opposing developments. Around 1pm ET, troop deployment news sent yields to the highs of the day. A little over an hour later, the newswires gave the impression that the war was almost over--so much so that bonds were willing to retrace most of the 1pm losses. Nonetheless, yields were already elevated by 1pm, which means it was a weaker trading session overall. Material developments in the war will continue to be more actionable for markets than scheduled economic data--especially this week.

Another volatile day for bonds with more headlines speaking to escalation/de-escalation contributing to ups and downs. We'd remain cautious and defensive until a clear trend of de-escalation (and, importantly, bond market response) is established. That will take more than a day or two of gains.

Technicals/Trends in 10yr (why 10yr)

- Ceiling/Support (can be used as "lock triggers")

- 4.48
- 4.40
- 4.34
- 4.28
- 4.19
- 4.12
- 4.05

- Floor/Resistance

- 3.89
- 3.97

MBS & Treasury Markets

MBS

- 30YR UMBS 5.0
- 30YR UMBS 5.5
- 30YR GNMA 5.0
- 15YR UMBS-15 5.0

US Treasuries

10 YR	4.394%	+0.047%
-------	--------	---------

2 YR	3.925%	+0.073%
30 YR	4.948%	+0.027%
5 YR	4.030%	+0.059%

Open Dashboard

Share This