Holiday-Adjacent Waiting Game

MBS Recap | Matthew Graham | 3:32 PM

Monday may not have been an official holiday for the U.S. bond market, but it may as well have been. Volume certainly acted the part, which is no surprise considering overseas holiday closures. Headlines and data had a limited impact, at best. In general the market is waiting to see what happens in Iran after tomorrow night's deadline on Trump's ultimatum to reopen shipping channels.

Lock / Float Considerations

- 4/6/26 (unchanged from Friday) - March's rate spike has come off the boil as of early April, but volatility risks remain as long as the war in Iran continues. Volatility risks exist for other reasons as well, of course, but what we're waiting for is the potential shift in defensive momentum that could coincide with the end of the war. While the past several days have been "nice" in that regard, it's still too soon to bank on it from a lock/float standpoint.
