Another Mid-Day Reversal Driven by Dueling Headlines

The overnight session featured a modest but clearly-defined rally in response to hopeful headlines on the Iran war. But as early a 9am ET, a complete reversal was beginning to take shape. Bonds remained in positive territory until the 11am hour when war headlines kicked selling into higher gear. Specifically, reports suggested Iran rejected the U.S. framework that helped bonds overnight. Separate news cited CIA sources, claiming Iran can withstand a Hormuz blockade for months. Selling continued in the afternoon on reports that had more to do with escalation risks (Saudi Arabia and Kuwait allowing U.S. forces to operate from their bases, explosions heard in Southern Iran). All told, 10yr yields were up more than 4bps by 3pm and MBS were down a quarter point. Despite the focus on the war, Friday's jobs report shouldn't be entirely dismissed as a market mover (discussed in more detail in the video).

Lock / Float Considerations

- 5/7/26 - Intraday volatility continues to highlight risks surround the market's sensitivity to war-related headlines. With no accurate way to know if the next headline will help or hurt, there's not much to be done regarding lock/float strategy unless one is resigned to trade the range. on that note, today stood as yet another failed attempt to break below 4.34% in 10yr yields (something that's been attempted on 4 of the past 8 days).
