

MBS & TREASURY MARKETS

Daily Coverage. Industry Leading Perspective.

ALERT: Negative Reprices Becoming More Likely

MBS are now down 5 ticks (.16) on the day and nearly a quarter point from morning rate sheet print times. Negative reprices are becoming likely among the jumpier lenders and increasingly possible for others.

There's no new news behind the weakness. Oil is only contributing modestly. Most the selling is bond-market-specific.

Michael Levine

Senior Loan Officer,
CrossCountry Mortgage

M: 914-391-1183

2900 Westchester Ave.
Purchase NY 10577-____
307827