War Headlines Pushing Oil and Yields Higher

MBS Recap | Matthew Graham | 1:46 PM

Some summertime Mondays are slow and uneventful. Some see brisk movement. Today's was somewhere in between. There was modest pressure at the outset following headlines about Iran planning to escalate hostilities. The sharpest increase in oil prices coincided with Iran seizing a UAE tanker in the Strait of Hormuz. 10yr yields followed and hit the highs of the day shortly thereafter. Bottom line: fairly straightforward day, even if moderately unpleasant for fans of low rates.

9:43 AM Under Some Pressure For Usual Reasons

1:32 PM Down an Eighth From Highs

1:36 PM

- ○ NY Fed Manufacturing
 - 20.6 vs 11 f'cast, 15.6 prev

09:21 AM MBS down and eighth and 10yr up 1.4bps at 4.707

11:02 AM MBS down 1 tick (.03) and 10yr up 1bp at 4.702

01:15 PM MBS down 3 ticks (.09) and 10yr up 1.9bps at 4.712

8/17/26 - Meaningful progress for the bond market remains elusive--a fact that's doubly true on any day with higher fuel prices in play. This dynamic will continue as long as the Iran war continues, thus making overnight floating a perpetually risky strategy.
