In a Shocking Twist, Bonds Relive Another Groundhog Day

Market Summary: Thursday, May 28, 2026 - 1:13AM

The present week began on a stronger note thanks to news that came out on Monday regarding a U.S./Iran peace deal being within reach. This time around, it was the fact that Iran's state TV shared a draft of the framework for the memo that serves as the stop-gap peace deal while full details are negotiated. It turns out that this draft wasn't obviously different from the one referenced on Monday, but markets remain cautiously willing to react to the same repackaged news time and again as if repetition increases the chance that the peace deal will eventually become official. Bonds were a bit more skeptical than oil prices, but ultimately ended the day without losing any ground.

Weakest Levels

MBS are now unchanged on the day and down an eighth of a point from some lenders' rate sheet print times. This is more of a heads-up that the jumpiest lenders could be close to considering a negative reprice. That said, we have yet to see bonds meaningfully challenge a break through the weakest levels yet.

10yr yields are still 0.2bps on the day at 4.487

Mortgage Rates Hold Lowest Level in Nearly 2 Weeks

Early in the trading session, the bond market began improving in response to more updates on a potential Iran peace deal. When bonds improve, rates fall, but the initial reaction proved short-lived.

Thankfully, the reversal didn't do any new damage. This allowed the average lender to keep rates right in line with yesterday's 6.61% for a top-tier 30 year fixed. You'd have to go back to May 14th to see anything lower.
